

Fabricated Stainless Steel

Roofing & Sheetmetal Centre manufactures custom stainless steel products for the roofing, plumbing, building and construction industries.

Stainless steel performs well under pressure. In an increasingly extreme climate, stainless steel can withstand harsh conditions and has a longer product lifecycle.

With self cleaning properties, stainless steel resists corrosion which makes it a good choice in coastal and heavily polluted industrial environments, or where you are looking for a product that will need minimal maintenance.

Benefits of stainless steel roofing and building products

- Rust resistance
- Increased product lifespan making this more cost effective in the long run
- Reduced maintenance requirements
- Greater structural strength and increased weight bearing capacity (compared with Colorbond®)
- High fire resistance
- Less likely to chip or scratch than coated materials
- Highly resistant to staining and discoloration
